U.S. Navy Dept.

Created in 1798 by Act of Congress. In July 1947 the armed forces of the United States were unified under a Secretary of Defense, head of the National Military Establishment, with Cabinet rank. The Navy Dept. became Dept. of the Navy; it and the Dept. of the Army retained their independence, and a new, co-equal Dept. of the Air Force was created. Each Dept. is headed by a Secretary, none of whom is in the Cabinet.

U.S. Dept. of the Navy.

Created July 1947, by Act of Congress, whereby the armed forces of the United States were unified under a Secretary of Defense, head of the National Military Establishment, with Cabinet rank. The Army and Navy Depts. retained their independence, and a new, co-equal Dept. of the Air Force was created. Each Dept. is headed by a Secretary, none of whom is in the Cabinet. We will continue to use U.S. Navy Dept. as the entry for Department Library.

Occupational trends in the United States by, H. Dewey Anderson and Percy E. Davidson. Stanford University, Calif., Stanford university press, 1940.
2, 618 p. incl. front. tables, diagrs. 231.
"This is the second report in an anticipated series. The first volume, Occupational mobility in an American community, was published in 1937. In process of development and soon to be published is a third report dealing with a vertical scale of occupations based upon rates of pay and earnings. The fourth study in progress is an investigation of the political behavior and voting records of occupational groups. A fifth research now under way is a study of occupational trends in California since 1870, following the plan developed in this volume."—Pref.

U.S. Bureau of plant industry.

Organized July 1, 1901, by the consolidation of the following divisions of the Dept. of agriculture: Agrostology division, Botany division, Seed and plant introduction, Seed division, Vegetable physiology and pathology division.

By order of the secretary, Oct. 6, 1938, administration of the Federal seed act was transferred to the Bureau of agricultural economics; the Soil survey division, and Soil chemistry and physics research division of the Bureau of chemistry and soils were transferred to the Bureau of plant industry. The division of seed investigations formerly charged with the administration of the Federal seed act was discontinued, and the research functions of that division were assigned to the Division of fruit and vegetable crops and diseases, Cereal crops and diseases, and Forage crops and diseases.

- PG9 U. S. Superintendent of Platt national park.
Report of the superintendent of the Platt national park to the secretary of the interior, 1913-1914. Washington, Govt. print. off., 1914-1.
3 v. 231^m.
Report year ends June 30.
Title varies: 1915, Report to the secretary of the interior by the superintendent of the Platt national park.
Earlier reports concerning this park were made by the Dept. of the interior. (Before 1906 the park was called Sulphur Springs reservation). During 1916 the administration of the national parks was assigned to the superintendent of national parks; who, in his report to the secretary of the interior for 1916, included excerpts from the reports of officers in charge of national parks. In April 1917 the United States National park service was organized, and since 1917 full reports of officers in charge of national parks will be found in the reports of the National park service.
